

ANDY BROWN TAKES WITNESS STAND

NORTH DAKOTA'S FINANCIAL STAR IN ASCENDANCY

M. O. Grangaard, of War Finance Corporation, Sees Improving Conditions in U. S.

OUT OF DEPRESSION

North Dakota Is Coming Back Faster Than Most States, He Declares

North Dakota is daily gaining a more favorable position in the eyes of the financial world, M. O. Grangaard, secretary of the Agricultural Loan Agency of the War Finance Corporation, of Minneapolis, in Bismarck on business.

Mr. Grangaard voiced the prediction that North Dakota would come back faster than any other state in the Northwest from the general business depression. Conditions generally are improving, he said, and the country at large is emerging slowly but surely from the depressing period.

"The Minneapolis agency of the War Finance Corporation approved an aggregate of $44,000,000 loan applications," said Mr. Grangaard. "Of that amount about $19,000,000 has been approved for North Dakota, and about $9,000,000 for Minnesota. The fact that North Dakota approvals are far greater than those of other states is not because North Dakota is in any worse shape but because the bankers of North Dakota are anxious to bring into the state the relief which the government has provided, and are aggressively working to that end."

The relief afforded by the War Finance Corporation loans is general in its application, Mr. Grangaard said.

"The benefits to the farmer and to the business man are great, and in spite of the fact that in many instances the loans do not enable the banks to make new loans, they enable the banks to carry loans already made to farmers and business men and have avoided the necessity of forced liquidation, which would surely have resulted and would have brought hardships to the farmer and to the business man. The enactment of Congress which put this plan of finance into operation is one of the great achievements of the present Congress and will prove to be one of the most efficient relief-giving laws ever enacted. The law has enabled many farmers and business men to successfully weather the strenuous period through which we have passed and from which we are emerging, and the farmer finds himself able to go ahead with confidence that he will be able to get from his local institutions the assistance necessary in carrying on his business."

Favorable to State
Speaking of North Dakota's financial condition, Mr. Grangaard said: "The sentiment toward North Dakota among investors is improving, and my prediction is that North Dakota will soon be looked upon as one of the most favored states for investment. Favorable comment and expressions of confidence are heard very frequently."

Already more than $9,000,000 has been paid into North Dakota institutions in loans, Mr. Grangaard said. Under the present act the War Finance Corporation will cease making loans July 1. Loans may be extended to not exceeding three years.

REFUSE RETURN OF LOCAL MAN

St. Paul, Feb. 14.—Requisition brought for the return of George Clark, North Dakota, on the charge of stealing a $300 stickpin from C. W. Henderson, of the McKenzies hotel staff, was denied today by Governor J. A. O. Preus. Clark, at the hearing produced a release from Henderson for any liability in the loss of the stickpin.

Mr. Henderson declared today that Clark did not have a release from him.

Held on Liquor Charge

Rufus Anderson, colored, will be arrested on a charge of having intoxicated liquor in his possession or similar charge, State's Attorney McCurdy said today, following a raid last night by federal officers and police on Anderson's home. A quart of home brew was obtained. It has not been decided whether a federal or state charge will be pressed.

Only one president (Grand) was a graduate of West Point.

THREE ALLEGED SWINDLES NET MORE THAN $6,500,000, U. S. AGENTS SAY

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Investigation of the dealings of the Western Land Operators' Company, the third concern raided by authorities within three days and believed by them to have swindled foreign-born citizens of more than $1,500,000 was under way today by government agents.

Within three days gigantic alleged swindles totalling approximately $6,500,000 according to conservative estimates by officers were disclosed with the arrest Saturday of R. J. Bischoff and the arrests yesterday of three employees of the Western Land Operators' Association and three employees of the American Novaculite Company.

Levitt Harrington, said by police to be the moving spirit in the affair of the American Novaculite Company and Charles Erlich and Charles Phillips, general manager and president of the Western Land Operators' Company, are being sought by the police.

The raids on the offices of the Western Land Operators' Company was made last night upon the complaint of Attorney Sidney Banes, representing 300 creditors. Just as the police have established a connection between the workings of Bischoff and Harrington so have they come to the belief that the Western Land Operators' Company was connected with the other two and that the three were operating huge swindles jointly.

The investigators indicated today that the total losses to the families who invested their savings may run much higher than the figures now set at $6,500,000.

H. G. BRISSMAN'S ARREST CAUSED BY J. COGHLAN

Accountant Charged With Violating State Accountancy Laws By Attorney

POLITICAL PLOT CHARGED

Herman G. Brissman of the firm of Bishop, Brissman and Company of St. Paul, was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out by Joseph Coghlan, a member of the state board of accountancy, charged with a misdemeanor in that he "did wilfully, wrongfully and unlawfully assume the title of certified public accountant of this state and by misrepresenting himself as such made and submitted to the board of auditors and senate and house of representatives of the state of North Dakota a certain audit of the books of the bank of North Dakota."

Brissman was arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. S. Casselman at 9 o'clock last night and continuance granted until February 16, bond being given in the sum of $500, by him, with no surety required.

Mr. Coghlan, explaining his action, said: "The law is plain that in North Dakota unless one has been admitted as an accountant he is strictly prohibited from the use of the words 'certified public accountant.' A lot of different parties have been operating in North Dakota the past year or two who, we have found, are not certified public accountants and as I am the only lawyer on the state board of accountancy I deemed it my duty to act."

Members of the state board of accountancy are Dr. E. T. Towne, of Grand Forks; J. A. Cull, of Fargo, and Mr. Coghlan.

Says Attack Political
The Brissman company is now nearing completion of an audit of the state industries under the new administration. Administration circles regard the action of Coghlan as an attempt to prevent the audit reports being made, which may show the state industries to be in worse shape than any previous reports have shown.

The arrest was characterized by Edward B. Cox, Brissman's attorney today as "simply a political attack."

"The Bishop, Brissman firm is well known throughout the Northwest and is an old established firm of public accountants," said Mr. Cox. "This late attack is just the work of a disgruntled politician and doubtless will be so considered by the people. Signature to the warrant for the arrest of Mr. Brissman was secured on information to the Justice that Mr. Brissman was about to leave town and the justice so stated in open court. As a matter of fact Mr. Brissman has been here for several weeks and his work will keep him here for a month longer at least. The justice allowed Mr. Brissman to go by simply signing his own bond and stated no further surety was needed."

State accountants, however, on the other hand declare that the law has been ignored and that thousands of dollars have been paid to nonresident accountants for work that could be done as well by resident taxpayers of this state. "It is time to ascertain," said an accountant, "whether the law is worth anything. None of us oppose the present audit but we feel North Dakota accountants should not be ignored so persistently as in the past."

The complaint was not approved by the state's attorney.

To File New Charge
Coghlan declared this afternoon that he would ask the state's attorney to approve a warrant for the arrest of Brissman on a charge of having made an audit for the Farmers Union Warehouse, Milling and Mercantile company, a private concern, because "they say it is politics in charging them with acting illegally in making the Bank of North Dakota audit." He said he would file charges on account of every audit the firm had made in North Dakota.

HARDING PUTS FOOT DOWN ON NEW TAX BOOST

Declares That There Shall Be No Reimposition of Taxes For Bonus

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Harding is unalterably opposed to the enactment of the special taxes suggested to finance the soldiers' bonus or to the return to taxes which have been repealed, it was stated officially today at the White House. It also was indicated that the executive was very much in doubt if it would be possible to raise the required sum to finance the cash feature of the bonus under an issue of bonds without appreciably advancing interest rates and destroying the financial tranquility which is sought.

The President, it was said, was disposed to be favorable to the bonus, but his attitude had to be that of finding sane and sensible conditions for the fulfillment of the promises made on the one hand without disturbing the desired return to financial stability.

$1,000 PLEDGED FOR RELIEF IN JEWISH DRIVE

General Non-Sectarian Drive To Be Launched in The Near Future

Approximately $1,000 was pledged last night for relief of Jewish sufferers in Poland and eastern Europe at a meeting held in American Legion hall under Alex Rosen, chairman of the relief work for the Bismarck district, embracing several counties.

A drive has been launched in the United States by the American Jewish Relief organization to raise $14,000,000 for relief work. At a state meeting held in Fargo two weeks ago more than $75,000 was pledged to the fund.

There were about 40 people at the meeting last night, and after hearing reports of investigators of the great need for relief in the countries torn by the war, liberal subscriptions were made.

Mr. Rosen announced that there will be a non-sectarian drive from March 6 to March 11 to raise the entire quota in this district. Complete reports of careful investigators will be laid before the people, detailing the situation across the ocean.

BISHOP BURNS TO SPEAK HERE AT M. E. CHURCH

His Address Tonight One of Features of the Three-day Conference of Church

MANY FINE SPEAKERS 2 MORE ARE DEAD

"World Politics and Shantung Question" is the Subject of Perry O. Hanson

The peak of the three-day conference of Methodists of the Bismarck district will be reached tonight at the McCabe Methodist Episcopal church when Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, of the Helena area of the church, delivers an address at 8:30 P. M. on the subject, "Forces in Kingdom Building." Bishop Burns has spoken in Bismarck before to large audiences and it is expected that the auditorium of the McCabe Methodist church will be filled tonight. At 7:30 P. M. there will be an illustrated address, "The Challenge of an Awakened Church," Rev. S. F. Halfyard, pastor of the McCabe church, will preside at tonight's session.

Reports made to the conference by the various pastors of the Bismarck district, of which Dr. H. Styles Harris is superintendent, reflected a splendid condition of the church generally. Reports made of the Centenary drive and the church as a whole have been well received.

One of the interesting speakers at the conference is Perry O. Hanson, who has resided in Shantung, China, since 1903. He was director of Methodist educational institutions in the province. Mr. Hanson was to speak late this afternoon on "World Politics and the Shantung Question."

He is familiar with the political, commercial and religious life of the Chinese province which was the seat of the most perplexing problem before the recent disarmament conference.

Another interesting speaker is R. E. Gornall, recently pastor at Pendleton, Ore. He is a very forceful speaker, and is home mission representative of the area.

Bishop Burns said in part in an address today:

"Marquard speaks of 'the eternal paths of a changing world.' A tragic picture in modern life is the man from whom the times have rolled away, leaving him a poor 'pathetic anachronism,' bolstered up by the ideals of another age. It is of such a man that Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote, who travelled on 'the strength of a dead fact.'"

"If we lived in a static world, there would be no need to advance beyond the methods and messages of the yesterdays. This dynamic new age and its demands of the ministry."

Minister of Tomorrow
The Minister of tomorrow will be: "1. Narrow enough to be deep; His narrowness, the narrowness of the prophet and the Christ who globed in himself all life; sphered in himself all racial hopes and dreams; He was the one true cosmopolitan, yet was narrow. He definitely delimited his ministry, his kind of work, his field of work, his goal. Intellectuals disappointed because of his narrowness. Men of patriotic ideals sneered because he did not adopt their programs for reform. Became mighty by limiting himself. Generated a world power because generated in one place. His very narrowness by self limitation. Modern peril of doing too many things. Scattered energies; become 'pack horse of community.' Major modern need, the stressing of the prophetic note. His supreme task to bring God down to man and to lift man up to God."

Will Be Broad
2. He will be broad enough to be social. He will recognize that Jesus was the most modern man that ever lived. Our world larger than that of the Fathers. Accounting social character of Christianity. Social ministry in content and spirit. Church out-spilled in community. A church no (Continued on Page 3)

Snipers Continue Their Grim Work in Belfast; Four Children Wounded

Belfast, Feb. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Forty-two of the kidnapped Ulster unionists, it was stated today, have requested Premier Craig of Ulster to liberate immediately the Monaghan football players held prisoner in Ulster, the unionists declaring they would be held captives until the football prisoners were released.

London, Feb. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Michael Collins' dramatic disclosure of an alleged Republican plot to overthrow the provisional government, the sudden and unexplained suspension of the British military evacuation and the dangerous tension between north and the south have combined to produce a serious situation in Ireland.

The outcome no one here ventures to forecast more definitely than by speculation on the dreaded possibility but dispatches show that the position on the frontier is not far removed from a state of war. The prospects of civil war is being seriously discussed in Belfast and elsewhere in the north.

DEATH ROLL GROWS

Belfast, Ireland, Feb. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Snipers continued their grim work in the disturbed section of Belfast this morning and by midday the death toll since Saturday had been increased to 18 by the death of two men who were victims of flying bullets in the streets during the noon hour. The number of wounded at the same hour had reached the total of about 50.

In the main thoroughfare of the city business proceeded as usual but in the storm centers the sniping was frequent and dangerous.

Four of the children who were wounded in yesterday's bomb attacks in Weaver street died in the hospital during the night. Twenty-two persons were wounded by the missile but 13 were sent home after hospital treatment.

Shots were fired into Royal Avenue, the main thoroughfare of Belfast, crowded with shoppers. One man was wounded and the driver of the ambulance which was rushed to carry him off reported the ambulance had been fired upon.

Previously a man had been found dead in Little York street—the nineteenth victim of the fighting.

TROOPS APPEAR

Belfast, Feb. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—A large body of troops appeared on the streets of Belfast this afternoon. They were the first to be sent here since the renewed outbreak of disorders.

MINERS STRIKE IS THREATENED IF WAGES CUT

Scale Committee to Cease Work if Agreement Not Reached On April First

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—The wage scale committee reporting to the special convention of the United Mine Workers of America here today declared "in the most emphatic manner our opposition to any reduction in mining prices and insists that the present basic wage schedule be maintained."

Under the discussion of policy the committee recommended a general suspension of mining if no agreement is reached by April 1, such action to be subject to a referendum vote of the union before March 1. It was also recommended that any wage scale agreement must be submitted to a referendum vote of the district affected.

The committee also declared for adjustment of "unequal differentials" which would result in small increases in various fields.

The committee in making the demand for retention of the present basic wages said a reduction would lower the standard of living among all miners and cause poverty and suffering throughout the coal fields.

Other recommendations are: "that all new agreements be based on an eight-hour day underground with time and one-half for overtime and double time for Sundays and holidays; that weekly pay-days be instituted; that the practice of fining miners for certain breaches of contract be eliminated and that the soft coal wage agreements be made for two years extending from April 1, next." The committee also recommended that the convention ratify the demands of the anthracite miners for a 20 per cent increase in tonnage rates and $1 a day increase for day men.

GUMMER'S PAL PRECEDES HIM IN TESTIFYING

Brown Declares He Was Not Out of His Room During Time of Murder

DENIES CONVERSATION

Declares He Did Not Talk With Gummer About "Standing Pat" in Case

Valley City, N. D., Feb. 14.—Andy Brown, the roommate of William Gummer, on trial in the Barnes district court for the murder of Marie Wick, June 7 last at Fargo, was called to the witness stand today for the defense.

Brown said he was in the Prescott hotel, the scene of the murder, from 12:25 to 12:30 a. m. the morning of June 7 and that he went to his room about 1:15 a. m. and spent the rest of the night there.

Brown said also that he was not out of his room at any time between 1:15 a. m. and 7 a. m. and that he went directly to work the next forenoon.

A witness for the state has testified that Brown entered the rear door of his rooming house at 6:30 a. m. and other witnesses have quoted Gummer as saying that Brown was in the hotel as late as 3 a. m.

With reference to the time that he met Gummer in the corridor of the Cass county jail when a witness for the state had testified that Gummer and Brown exchanged admonitions "to stand pat" Brown said that James Maloney, the jailer, was present all the time and that any remark he or Gummer might have made could have been heard by Maloney.

Brown was again on the stand when the afternoon session was convened.

Mrs. Lawrence on Stand.
Mrs. Anna Lawrence, proprietress of the hotel, was the other witness for the defense this morning and testified concerning the routine of duty assigned Gummer. She also said that on the day following the murder she had seen blood-stains on the door of room 31 adjoining that of Miss Wick and that she had seen stains on the door of another room leading to an exit over a rear room. She said that she had seen a foot-print on the rear room at the foot of the fire escape.

On cross-examination she said many persons had been in and around the hotel from the time the murder was discovered until she saw the foot-prints which was about 3 p. m.

Brown this afternoon denied "stand-pat" conversation between him and Gummer.

STATE'S FIRE LOSSES REACH INTO HUGE SUM

Underwriters Make Public Figures Showing Comparison of State with Others

CAUSES ARE CLASSIFIED

During the five years ending with 1920 fire losses in North Dakota caused the destruction of property valued at the astonishing total of $9,552,172, according to figures made public today by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which compiled the statistics from its Actuarial Bureau's records. These figures reveal in a startling way the price being paid by the state for public ignorance and carelessness in handling fire hazards.

The causes are classified under three headings, of which twelve are designated as "strictly preventable," with a total of $3,166,066 or 31.8 per cent of the whole; nine are designated as "partly preventable," the aggregate being $4,203,037 or 42 per cent of the complete loss, and in addition there are those listed in the "unknown" column, which total $2,583,069 or 26 per cent. The "unknown" losses may be considered as largely preventable since, if determined, they would have been distributed among the other causes.

In analyzing the figures, it is found that while "Exposure," which means the effect of communicated fires, was responsible for the heaviest loss, $1, 927,726, the principal specific cause of fire was "Stoves, Furnaces, Boilers and Their Pipes" with a toll of $1,269,065. Next in importance, as causes of fire, were "Matches-Smoking," $629,959, then "Electricity," $551,518, then "Lightning," $517,061.

The losses during the five years were as follows:

Strictly Preventable Causes
Defective chimneys and flues	$465,624
Fireworks, firecrackers, etc.	2,407
Gas, Natural and Artificial	41,671
Hot ashes and coals, open fires	84,080
Ignition of Hot grease, oil, tar, wax asphalt, etc.	23,215
Matches-Smoking	630,059
Open lights	83,026
Petroleum and its products	424,990
Rubbish and litter	62,688
Sparks on roofs	70,879
Steam and Hot water pipes	9,453
Stoves, Furnaces, boilers and their pipes	1,269,065

Total $3,166,066

Partly Preventable Causes

Electricity	$51,518
Explosions	184,950
Exposure (including Communication)	1,927,726
Sparks from Machinery	305,667
Incendiarism	119,829
Lightning	517,061
Miscellaneous known causes	132,567
Sparks from combustion	127,130
Spontaneous combustion	136,589

Total $4,203,037

Unknown Causes, (probably largely preventable) $2,583,069

Total $9,552,172

36th in Fire Losses North Dakota stands thirty-sixth among all of the states in the amount of loss by fire and the figures quoted should be increased by about 25 per cent to cover losses not reported to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The state's losses during the five years from 1916 to 1920 inclusive averaged $1,990,434 per annum. If the total of $9,552,172 could have been used instead of wasted, it would have built 1,990 houses at $5,000 apiece (sufficient to furnish homes for 9,950 people, or more than the population of Bismarck), or it would have built 995 miles of good macadam roads at $10,000 a mile.

A study of such figures indicates the need of public education in fire prevention. It should be realized that property destroyed by fire represents an utter and irretrievable loss to the people as a whole, while the inexcusable toll in human life and suffering can hardly be computed.

LESS YOUNG MEN INEBRIATES THAN FORMERLY

There Will Be a Lot of Work to Do With The Older Ones, However

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Today's inebriates are mostly men of older years, the percentage of young men falling sharply from what it used to be, according to Judge J. Kent Greene, president of the Washingtonian Home association, the oldest operating institution in the United States for the reclamation of drunk addicts.

Founded in 1863, the association for many years was run as a semi-municipal institution, receiving city payments which in 1883 were limited to $20,000 a year by legislative enactment. Two years ago it sold the building it maintained for men for $135,000 and concentrated its greatly reduced activities in its women's home.

In 1921 five men under 30 years of age were admitted to the home, Judge Greene, who is manager of the Commerce Court of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said in his annual report. "Between the ages of 30 and 40, 36 were admitted; between 40 and 50 years, 65; between 50 and 60 years, 55; between 60 and 70 years nine, and one over 70."

"All available evidence is that most of our dealings hereafter will be with patients of older years. We may wait until those of the older living generation have passed away before a very marked effect on the habits of the people as to temperance is noticed, but the opinions of the younger generation will be enforced more strongly every year.

"As the deadly effects of moonshine intoxicants are becoming more and more appreciated, and if there is a more rigid enforcement of the law, we can shortly count on a rapid decline in our present patronage, and our beloved institution will be obliged very shortly to look to other fields of work."

BANQUET IN HONOR OF SISTER BONIFACE AT THE HOSPITAL BRINGS TO FITTING CLOSE "GOLDEN JUBILEE"

Physicians of Hospital Staff
Speak at the Banquet Given in Her Honor in St. Alexius
Hospital

ORIGINAL POEM IS READ

Sister Boniface, the hospital staff, members of the clergy and the relatives of Sister Boniface, who were here for the Golden Jubilee celebration were the guests of the sisters and nurses of St. Alexius hospital at a banquet at 7 o'clock last night. An elaborate six course banquet was served.

The tables were beautifully decorated with baskets of roses, freesias, daffodils and pussy willows. Little yellow rose nut baskets were also used. The entire color scheme was carried out in gold and white. Yellow candles in gold candlesticks were lighted on the tables and other lights were shaded with yellow flowers.

The programs were cleverly designed of gold and white and each part of the menu contained some reference to gold in honor of the Golden Jubilee and the honor guest. Following is the menu for the banquet:

- Gold Dust Cocktail
- Gold Bouillon
- Green Gold Olives
- Gold Hearts of Celery
- Golden Pheasant, with Dressing
- Potato Nuggets
- Midas Sauce
- Peas in Golden Cases
- Golden Parmeged Terre
- Gold Tip Salad
- Rose Gold
- Assorted Golden Bars
- Liquid Gold
- Gold Mints

Speakers on Program.
Following the banquet the program was given. Dr. F. R. Smyth was the toastmaster. The toasts were very interesting and the many clever parts called for much laughter. The following list is of the toasts given and the speakers:

- "The Golden Jubilee"—Rev. Bishop Wehrle.
- "Golden Americanism"—Dr. Fannie Dunn Quinn.
- "Gold Crowns"—Dr. G. A. Rawlings.
- "The Golden West"—Rev. J. Dignam.
- "Golden Chords"—Vocal solo, Miss C. McCauley.
- "Golden Opportunity"—Dr. W. H. Bodenstab.
- Telegrams and letters to Sister Boniface, read by Rev. Hiltner.
- "Norwegian Gold"—Dr. J. A. Halgren.
- "Golden Vision"—Dr. L. A. Schipfer.
- "The House of Gold"—Dr. V. J. LaRose.
- "Golden Memories"—Rev. Father Clemens.

Besides the numerous congratulatory telegrams Sister Boniface received from all parts of the United States letters were received from the following: Catholic Hospital Association, Bismarck Town Criers, District Court of the state of North Dakota, W. F. Cushing, of Beach, Bismarck Commercial Club and Douglas Campbell of California.

One of the pleasant surprises of the evening was the reading of a poem written by James W. Foley, composed especially in honor of Sister Boniface. In behalf of the hospital staff, Dr. F. R. Smyth presented Sister Boniface with an exquisite, graceful flower basket of gold, a picture of the St. Alexius hospital, the occasion and the names of the doctors were beautifully engraved on the gift. St. Mary's school orchestra furnished music during the evening.

THE GOLDEN SISTER

For Sister Boniface on the Occasion of Her Golden Jubilee

I've a little Golden Sister
Over there among the snows,
Who brings rays of Golden sunshine
Everywhere she comes and goes,
And I'm writing her a message
On a little paper scroll
To say how much I love her
And her great big Golden soul.

She has done so much of kindness
In her fifty Golden years,
She has healed so many heart-aches
And has dried so many tears,
And I'm wishing—how I'm wishing!
That from Time's unending store,
I might dip out a lot of years
And give her fifty more.

I've a little Golden Sister,
With a great big Golden heart
And in spirit I am near her,
Though we may be far apart,
And I have to stop a moment
Just to brush away the tears
As I wish her God's best blessing
On her fifty Golden years.

—JAMES W. FOLEY.

FOREIGN TRADE DESCRIBED AS "FLY WHEEL"

"Outside" Trade Increased Tremendously In 1921, Says Dr. Klein

Cleveland, O., Feb. 14.—Authors of "insidious propaganda which, like sand deliberately put into bearings, is designed to slow down our export machine at the time of its greatest need," were vigorously attacked here today in an address by Dr. Julius Klein, director of the U. S. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, before the first annual convention of the Bankers' Association for Foreign Trade. Dr. Klein described foreign trade as the "fly wheel" of the American business machine and foreign outlets as "indispensable business stabilizers."

Dr. Klein declared it a fallacy to believe certain interests in America are urging that there is no necessity for greater exports and that the United States can prosper even if surrounded by a Chinese Wall. Should this view prevail, he said, the American Export Machine "now the envy of practically all our competitors," would be completely destroyed.

Foreign trade today, he said, is only 10 or 20 per cent of all United States commercial activity, but that percentage represents billions of dollars which in these days of narrowing profits, "is the difference between solvency and bankruptcy."

Although 1921, the director said, was recognized as "the year of depression and liquidation," it showed that "our foreign trade had enormously increased" in the 8-year period between 1913 and 1921 amounting in some cases to as much as 1712 per cent.

FOREIGNERS CRAZY FOR "ANTIQUES"

Unwary and Newly-Rich Are Being Made "Goats" In Germany

Berlin, Feb. 14.—Modern "antiques" are being purchased wholesale in Germany for sale to unwary foreigners and newly rich Teutons who have been prompted to seek objects of real art by the news that a number of princely families have been compelled to market family heirlooms and rare treasures, according to investigation of some clever buyers.

The business of dealing in imitations has been so profitable that hundreds of new "antique" stores have been opened, and representatives with choice lists of things "old families" have to part with are encountered at every turn.

One way of attracting the interest of a prospective buyer has become so common it has almost lost its value. The "antique" artist maneuvers for an introduction and in the course of conversation mentions an old friend who once stood high in the favor of the former Emperor, who must now sell his priceless heirlooms for a mere song to buy his breakfast rolls and sausages.

The man's name, of course, cannot be divulged, he is so proud, and it would be such humiliation. Arrangements may be made, however, to view the antiques in the dwelling of an acquaintance, or they can be transported to the shop of some antique dealer.

This method is more successful with the newly rich Germans, who appreciate the part pride may play in the situation, than with foreigners, especially Americans, who have learned that pride does not often prevent a prince or even a former king from talking business when a few hundred thousand marks are in sight.

Prices for genuine antiques, owing to the keen competition among purchasers, have reached staggering proportions and possessors of these treasures are marketing now, either under the press of necessity or for business reasons. Some pieces belonging to a former King of Saxony, whose heir is said to have disposed of his entire house furnishings, brought as much as 1,000,000 marks each.

RYDER TO VOTE ON BOND ISSUE

Ryder, N. D., Feb. 14.—A mass meeting was held at the opera house when the question as to the advisability of bonding this district in the sum of $24,000 was discussed.

A TALK WITH A BISMARCK MAN

Mr. J. L. Hubert, Retired Deputy Sheriff of 122 First Street, Tells His Experience.

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with a Bismarck man:

"I don't know of any remedy I can recommend more highly than Doan's Kidney Pills," says Mr. Hubert. "I used them about five years ago when suffering from an attack of kidney complaint. Lumbago was the worst symptom of my complaint. There were times when I had to lay off from work for several days, my back was so painful. The kidney secretions contained sediment and burned in passage. I went to Lenhart's Drug Store and got three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they were not long in showing beneficial effects upon my system. The three boxes cured me. 50c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

ability of bonding this district in the sum of $24,000 was discussed.

No opposition was expressed at the meeting as against the bond issue. The board of education held a special meeting the same night and passed a resolution calling for an election to be held on February 24 to vote on the question.

The position of the board in the matter is this: They have assurance the bonds can be sold at this time. There is no money available with which to pay teachers' salaries and warrants cannot even be sold at a discount. The local banks have agreed that if the district will take up its outstanding warrants they will take on a reasonable amount of new warrants without discount. The district will then be on a cash basis.

HYPNOTIST IN BAD WITH MEN -ALSO WOMEN

Kittay, Operating in Berlin, To Have a "Congress" Held
Over Him

WOMEN EASY SUBJECTS

Berlin, Feb. 14.—German criminologists, psychologists, medical and legal experts will hold a "congress" over the case of Leopold Miccyslaw Kittay, a Galician, whose trial on charges of misuse of hypnotic powers was set to begin here today. They have been summoned for opinions on psychology, hypnotism, suggestion and mental responsibility of persons who commit crimes while hypnotized.

Kittay, who practiced hypnotism under the name of Lo Kittay, is alleged to have influenced his clients to sell or pawn their valuables and give him the money. He will also be held to answer charges of immorality for he is said to have had great influence over women, one of whom, the wife of a well-known merchant, tried to sell her house and furnishings without her husband's knowledge and succeeded in raising a considerable sum which she gave the hypnotist.

He used part of the money in making a brief tour of German cities, where he gave public exhibitions of his power over the merchant's wife who, with a friend, accompanied him. The complaint against Kittay cites as an example of his influence that he hypnotized a dancing girl while she was on the stage, compelling her to fall asleep and abandon the performance. This girl is said to have detested the hypnotist but could not resist his hypnotic power.

A number of husbands whose wives were addicted to drug habits appealed to Kittay for assistance and in some instances he is alleged to have put the women to sleep and while in this condition suggested they sell or pawn their own valuables or the property of their husbands, proceeds of which transactions he pocketed. Kittay's defense will attempt to show the clients themselves were criminally inclined and committed the offenses without undue influence on the part of the hypnotist.

SLOPE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS TALK OF OBTAINING HATFIELD, RAINMAKER

Beach, N. D., Feb. 14.—The Slope county commissioners are dickering with Rainmaker Hatfield for a copious supply of rainfall in that county for the coming season, but have not yet reached a contract.

Hatfield wants to make a deal whereby he shall be paid $5,000 for every inch of rainfall or fraction thereof that may fall in the prescribed area during the months of May and June in excess of two inches. But the commissioners discovered the average rainfall in those months for the past three dry years was 3.54 inches, and made the rainmaker a counter offer of $5,000 an inch of rainfall in excess of 2.54 inches, the rainfall to be the average falling at Mott, Bowman, Amidon, Hettinger and Bismarck. Under this offer the period of operations by Hatfield is to cover from May 1 to June 30, and the rainfall is to operate for a distance of 100 miles from the rainmaking plant in an easterly and southeasterly direction. This offer has not been accepted by the rainmaker.

The Slope County News, however, is a Doubting Thomas and wants, if the deal is made with Hatfield, to have him give a bond against his improper handling of the rainmaking machinery, so that by some fluke it will not work backward, so to speak, and drive the rain away and dry out the county completely.

Last June when reports of Hatfield's success in making rain up in Canada came to Golden Valley county a number of persons wanted to make a deal for a branch plant here, and the Town Criers club wired asking if it could be done, but Hatfield said he had all he could do to squeeze the juice out of the clouds up there. He said he would be glad to dicker with us this season, but those pesky Slope county fellows beat us to it. And not only that, but they are planning to have the rainfall go eastward toward those ungodly folks in Adams and Hettinger counties. Now, if they would only be good about it and make the hundred mile circle swing this way from Amidon all might be forgiven. Anyway it will be good to know, if Hatfield takes the contract and succeeds, that the clouds in this part of the world are of the juicy kind and may be induced to "give down" upon proper coaxing.

CREAM BUYING TROUBLES ARE MULTIPLYING

Commissioner Has So Many "He Doesn't Know What To Do"
With State Inspection

Cream buying conditions in North Dakota have placed Robert F. Flint, dairy commissioner, in a position analogous to the old woman who lived in a shoe. He has so many cream buying troubles as State Dairy Commissioner that he "doesn't know what to do."

To begin with, he has nominal supervision over the more than one thousand cream buyers in the state who hold a North Dakota license. North Dakota's law concerning discrimination also has a very drastic section in which punishment of revocation of license is proposed for the cream buyer who raises prices unduly in an effort to ruin the business of a competitor.

Competition for cream, according to Mr. Flint, is unusual. It has reached a point where it is a battle royal between the large organizations, and the small purchaser does not figure. In many cases the prices have been raised to a point where it is impossible for the purchaser to make money or to secure the amount he pays for the cream. While this condition is good for the individual cream seller today, Mr. Flint has been in the dairy business so long that he realizes that a day of reckoning will come when every one will pay for the excess of the present hour.

Community pride and community interest also has a bearing upon the problems of the commissioner. One case that has been called to the attention of the commissioner is that of a buyer who was persuaded by the merchants of the town to pay a higher price for cream than the buyers at neighboring points. The object was to attract business to the one town and away from the others. The merchants, however, failed to arrange to make good the deficit made in the buyer's principal in paying the extra prices.

Another factor that is giving the Dairy Commissioner concern is that cream is the only cash product for sale at the present time in many of the towns of North Dakota. A merchant who purchases $100 worth of cream per week will handle a similar amount of cash and in return he receives cash payment for a good many of the articles he sells. At this time, this is an unusual incentive to all the market will stand, or a little more for cream, because of the great advantage accruing to him in the handling of cash and the payment of his commodity bills.

LESS POLITICS IN BUSINESS TODAY'S NEED

But The World Does Need More
Business In Politics Claims
Deans

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 14.—More business in politics and less politics in business is what the world needs today, H. G. P. Deans, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company of Chicago, said today in addressing the first annual convention of the Bankers' Association for Foreign Trade. Reluctance on the part of the United States to attend any international conference that has for its aim a full discussion of trade difficulties would seem, Mr. Deans said, to involve "a confession of incapacity on our part, or a failure properly to grasp conditions."

Better conditions will not come to this country, the bankers were told, "until European demand for our products improves." It is as great an improvement is made within the next three years as has been made in the past three years, Mr. Deans said, "we have good reason for believing that better days are on the way."

Just as government machinery was required to provide the credits for war, the same agency should provide the "much smaller, but yet very considerable and necessary credits required for the revival of industry," Mr. Deans said.

"If co-operative financial action between our government and the governments of Europe was needed during the war, it is even more necessary today than then," the speaker said. "The day is approaching, if it is not now here, when we will need Europe's trade and need it perhaps more than Europe will need ours."

WOULD SPEND $21,000,000 TO HELP JOBLESS

Stockholm, Feb. 14.—The Swedish Minister of Social Affairs wants a special appropriation from the Riksdag of more than $21,000,000 to be spent this year to provide work for the jobless. If granted the greatest part of this sum will be spent in road building.

About $4,000,000 probably will be used for government orders to be placed with national industries now suffering most severely from the general depression.

The total budget expenses, according to present governmental calculation will amount to 1,034,631,637 kronor, more than $281,000,000. These include 515,000 kronor, or about $129,000, to defray Sweden's share of the expenses of the League of Nations' administration.

SOVIET'S NEW BUDGET PASSED

Moscow, Feb. 14.—The budget of the Soviet government for 1922, presented to the Congress of Soviets by M. Krestinsky, the Commissar of Finance, and finally adopted by it, carries appropriations aggregating 1,877,000,000 gold rubles. The estimated income from railways, licenses, leases, customs, is 575,000,000 gold rubles, leaving an expected deficit of 1,302,000,000 gold rubles (a gold ruble is equivalent to about 51 cents).

SEARCHING FOR A POT OF GOLD NEAR COMMERCE

Said To Contain Thousands of Dollars Buried During Civil War

MEDIUM TELLS WHERE

Commerce, Mo., Feb. 14.—For the third time in fifty years, residents of this vicinity are engaged in a search for treasure. Two previous failures in the venture have not dampened interest which is running high.

The search is for a pot of gold said to contain thousands of dollars that was buried by a Dr. Docker during the Civil War on his farm near Commerce. The report has been that the doctor, fearing that his home would be ransacked by both the Confederate and Union armies, buried his fortune and confided the secret of the hiding place in only one person, an aged negress, who worked on his farm.

Dr. Docker died shortly after burying the gold, according to the story, leaving the negress alone with the secret. A number of men demanded that the negress reveal the hiding place after the doctor's death. Their demand was refused and they beat her severely. She died as a result of the beating and the last recollections of the secret hiding place were carried to the grave with her.

Marshall Moore and A. E. Pinkerton, of this community, said they were told where to dig to find the treasure by a medium living nearby. The two men are using a magnetic needle in the search. Old residents say that an unsuccessful search was made by five men after the death of the negress and that a short time later another futile hunt was made by a party led by a newspaperman named Hoffman of Cape Girardeau. Numerous holes, where it was believed the gold was buried, were dug by the parties.

URGES POTATO INSTITUTES HELD

James Milloy, secretary of Minot Association of Commerce, was in Bismarck yesterday to confer with representatives of the state department of agriculture with a view of obtaining a series of potato institutes in the Northwestern part of the state. The potato industry is growing rapidly in that territory, he said, and business men are encouraging it in every way they can.

NEW SUN SPOTS ARE DISCOVERED

Washington, Feb. 14.—New groups of sun spots have been under observation for several days at the naval observatory here. There were disturbances in the Northwest.

FOR A CONSTIPATED CHILD

A small dose of Dr. Caldwell's
Syrup Pepsin will bring Quick relief.

MOTHER, when one of the children is constipated are you going to give the first laxative within reach? It is dangerous to do so. Some have been known to rupture the intestines of little children. Don't be beguiled by the outside sugary appearance. Look into the formula. Calomel is seldom necessary; salts, minerals, coal tar, never!

Unlike these, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is admirable for children, as it is for grown people, too. Mothers have been giving it to children for 30 years. They know it does not gripe, and is free from narcotics. The formula is on every package, and you can see it is vegetable, just a combination of Egyptian Senna and other laxative herbs with pepsin. Use it yourself and you will find it is not necessary to take it every day, nor to increase the dose, and that it is pleasant to the taste. Bottles can be had at all drug stores, and the cost is only about a cent a dose. Have no hesitancy giving it to a baby in arms. It is absolutely safe.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free

Few escape constipation, so even if you do not require a laxative at this moment let me send you a Half-Ounce Trial Bottle of my Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE so that you will have it handy when needed. Simply send your name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 184 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Write me today.

vice president. Mr. Lubke's selection will be good news to his numerous friends in the city and country.

Mr. Weydahl, who recently bought a large block of stock in the bank, will some time in March move here and take an active part in the conduct of its affairs.

MYSTERY ACT AT AUDITORIUM

A Tacoma, Wash. paper grows enthusiastic over the "Sawing a Woman in Half" act which comes to the Auditorium here Thursday night. The review given the act follows: "How is it done?"

That is the all-pervading question with those who visited Pantages theater yesterday and there saw a woman apparently cut in two yet step forth from a pine box prison unharmed.

I am frank to admit I was baffled am yet. My friend who sat with me was likewise and is yet. We saw a girl tied hand and foot with ropes in the presence of a half dozen from the audience invited to the stage. We saw her placed in a pine box and the ropes that held her passed through holes into the top of it. These were placed in the hands of those who stood about. Then the box was securely padlocked, tipped on to an open base frame and glass slides and steel sheets passed through the improvised prison. Sectioned this way it did not seem possible anyone could have been inside.

Next came the saw. Rasping its way through the heavy boards in the hands of two sturdy attendants it seemed uncanny where could this woman be? Was she really in the box.

Then the climax—the careful tipping of the box to an upright position, unhooking it and lo, out stepped the young lady, smiling. If you can fathom this mystery, let me know.

Pretty when she wakes up

Cleopatra's way

With a world of ancient beauty arts at her command, she depended on cleansing, with Palm and Olive oils to protect, improve and preserve the freshness and smoothness of her skin.

This beautifying was not confined to face alone. The bath was a daily ceremonial with all ancient peoples, palm and olive oils the cleansers used.

Bathe with Palmolive and keep your skin smooth and white. It is a luxury all can afford.

This is the real test. The girl who wakes fresh and radiant, with a clear, smooth skin which has no defects to conceal, need not worry about her looks. She possesses the greatest of all attractions—the one which outshines all others.

This need not discourage the girl whose complexion is not so good. Proper care will soon transform a bad skin into one admired for its perfection.

Get rid of the clogging accumulations which cause coarseness and disfiguring defects and you will soon be complimented on your fresh blooming complexion.

The secret is simple and about 3,000 years old. It was discovered in ancient Egypt and practiced by Cleopatra.

Simple—Beautifying

The remedy for a coarse skin, for one disfigured with blackheads or ugly blotches, is daily cleansing with a lather blended from palm and olive oils.

Such a cleanser is so mild and soothing that it softens the skin and keeps it smooth. But it removes the accumulation of dirt, oil and perspiration which are responsible for most bad complexions.

You can't neglect your skin and expect to keep it

The soothing cleanser

Palmolive is the modern combination of the same beautifying cosmetic oils Cleopatra used in the days of ancient Egypt. It is just as valuable today as a safe soothing cleanser.

Massage its smooth, creamy lather softly into the network of tiny pores which compose the surface of your skin. It will remove the clogging deposits which enlarge these pores, cause blackheads and invite blotches.

Dry skins are benefited by cold cream after cleansing. If unusual dryness is your trouble, apply a little cream before as well as after washing.

Popularity—Low price

Judge Palmolive by other soaps and you will expect to pay at least 25 cents a cake. But the popularity which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night naturally reduces cost. Quantity production is always economical.

Thus this finest facial soap is offered at 10 cents a cake—a price all can afford. You can economically use Palmolive for every toilet purpose, for it costs no more than ordinary soap.

SWEETHEARTS

The lover who sent the first valentine ranks with the inventor of Santa Claus, among the Great Unknown of history.

Few men have done as much to make this a joyous world. Surely no one has done more to color life with romance.

No life is worth while unless it attracts and radiates love.

And the valentine is the messenger of Cupid.

If you are on the shady side of youth, there are few memories you can look back to, with the thrill and tenderness of the valentines of school days.

Sometimes we wonder what became of those first sweethearts of youth—the shy little lassie in the gingham pinafore, the sweetheart of the old-time sleighride, the romantic love of our late teens and early twenties.

Each did her mighty bit to make us better men. Each helped develop us spiritually for the Only One who came later.

You remember those valentines you sent then? "Them was the days." Looking backward, the valentine days are rosy lanterns in the mists of the past.

Those greatest sweethearts, our wives, may be getting gray. But the old-time love is in their hearts. The thrill of a valentine to them is as tense and glamorous as long ago. This is Valentine Day, and all sweethearts, white-haired or young, yearn for remembrance—violets, candy or, best of all, an honest-to-goodness valentine.

INTO THE HEREAFTER

A Chippewa Indian, reputed to be 137 years old, dies at Cass Lake, Minn. Was he the oldest American? Probably.

His name was Ga-Be-Nah-Gewn-Wonce. Translated, that means Wrinkled Meat.

Would you trade your life for his?

He lived simply, close to nature. Never visited a city until he was 133. Then he took a trip to Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago.

People who like jazz, folding beds, starched collars, landlords and time clocks will say: "Shucks! We live more in a year than old Wrinkled Meat lived in his 137."

Wrinkled Meat, remembering the joys of outdoor life, would smile wisely.

Wrinkled Meat had been married eight times. But he never had a child. Finally, he adopted one. The paternal instinct can't be downed. He knew the dull monotony of an old age without children.

If he could have had an heir, he undoubtedly would have traded 75 years of his life.

Wrinkled Meat never knew real life.

All life is a preface until we have children. Emerson, greatest American philosopher, said that. It is true.

Old Wrinkled Meat lived to see his people, the red Indians, lose the vast country they once controlled from coast to coast.

Wise providence gave the Indians a chance, then shoved them off the stage to make room for a civilization of production which, now solving slowly the problem of making a living in a few hours a day, is paving the way for civilization of intellectual research and spiritual culture to follow.

Wrinkled Meat also lived to see these miracles: Men flying through the air. Talking with each other by wireless, 3000 miles apart. Niagara Falls harnessed, the falling water lighting homes hundreds of miles away. Scientific farm where once the buffalo roamed. X-ray machines that make human bodies transparent. Moving pictures. Boxes that play music and sing. Men claiming they'll soon talk to people on the stars.

Wrinkled Meat won't be believed when he arrives in the Happy Hunting Ground with such fairy stories about what the white man is doing with his magic in the land of the old-time Indian medicine man.

A true version of life 137 years hence, in the year 2059, would be equally unbelievable to us of today.

ANOTHER RESTORER OF YOUTH

Another restorer of youth to the aged will come to our country. This one is Professor Eugen Steinach, famous Viennese biologist.

He doesn't treat his patients with monkey glands, like Doc Veronoff of Paris. The Steinach way is an operation on glands already in the body. Like turning on the gas by regulating the valves.

Wrinkled Meat, old Chippewa Indian who died the other day at 137 years, would have laughed at such methods. He said his long life was due to his never sitting on a chair or sleeping in a white man's bed. A theory to fit all needs. Take your pick.

A CITY PLAN NECESSARY

The crooked streets of Boston grew up along old-time cow paths. Cities, more recently founded, took note of the inconvenience and laid their streets out in straight lines.

Cities now discover that traffic congestion is due mainly to narrow streets. Yet they go ahead, laying out more narrow streets. It is a foolish policy, especially foolish in small towns that may some day be giant cities.

SCOUT RANGERS

The older Boy Scouts in Chicago started a new order, know as Scout Rangers. They will work to educate youths and grown-ups against forest fires, and for the general need of checking destruction of our rapidly diminishing timber supply.

The movement should become national. Adults should join it.

America will be almost entirely treeless in 20 years unless tree planting is put on a bigger scale.

SPECULATORS BUSY

Land-speculators get busy, anticipating development of Muscle Shoals. In a nearby town, Sheffield, with 4500 population, $1,000,000 worth of land changes hands in a few months.

Vacant land, formerly $40 an acre, jumps to $1000 an acre. One unimproved corner sells for $15,000.

The landlord is always on hand when people get busy and a rakeoff or toll becomes possible.

If Peary had discovered a gold mine at the North Pole, he'd have found a landlord 10 feet behind him, out of breath.

MOLIERE MYSTERY

A famous mystery again comes to the fore in France, in connection with the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the birth of Moliere, greatest French dramatist.

Fifty years ago, an expressman with a donkey cart hauled three burlap bags, containing Moliere's personal papers, for deposit in the National Library, Paris. The library is closed, come again tomorrow, said the porter.

The expressman drove away—and vanished, driver, cart, donkey, bags and all. Every great French detective of the last half-century has tried to trace the lost Moliere documents, without success. Specimens in Moliere's handwriting are rare and priceless. Great fortune awaits a detective who can find the contents of those three lost bags.

Do they exist? If so, some detective eventually will find them and become rich. Time does not obliterate clues. Murder will out.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

ARE POTATOES PEACEMAKERS?

It is no news to be told that meats are dangerous. This has long been the doctrine of the vegetarians, of whom George Bernard Shaw is perhaps the most eminent living representative. Nor is it only on hygienic grounds that the eating of flesh has been attacked. There are those who hold that we have no moral right to take life for the purpose of food. The harmless and innocent mackerel or halibut is as much a living creature as the lamb or the chicken, of course, but there are few protests in behalf of the fishes, little or big.

A physician in Paris has proved conclusively, so he says, that meat of any kind is a poison. It would be possible to accept this as true and still go on eating it with a reasonable sense of security. Alcohol and tobacco, we are told, are also poisons, though users of them often live to a ripe old age. This physician reassures meat eaters, however, by saying that there are vegetable antidotes for the poison. It is obvious that only the reckless person who sticks to an exclusive diet of meat need fear to witness in himself the slow graduation of decay. No great physiological knowledge is required to persuade the layman that such a diet is bad for him. Our civilized human nature requires variety. Many of our tastes in this respect are cultivated; but even the man of simplest gastronomic likes outdoes the beasts of the field.

What is not generally known is that vegetables have a direct influence upon mental and moral qualities. The truth may have been hinted at symbolically by Gilbert:

Then a sentimental passion of a vegetable fashion.
Should excite your languid spleen—
An affection a la Plato for a bashful young potato,
Or a not too-French French bean.

For potatoes, we are now told, have a soothing effect, and green beans stimulate susceptibility to tones and colors. Much modern music may be due to a bean diet. Baked beans, on the other hand, strengthen the muscles rather than the artistic impulses. Is the bean-baked intellectual brilliancy of Boston only mythical? Spinach stirs the combative spirit and incites to war. The conference at Washington should fix a ratio for spinach and insist on a potato diet. Suppose the Japanese took to it instead of rice! And did potatoes make the Irish peaceful?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ANOTHER GREAT FINANCIAL QUESTION

I WONDER IF MA WOULD CARE IF I GOT HER ONE O' THE SEVEN CENTERS INSTEAD OF A DIME ONE?

WHAT IS THE REAL SITUATION OF THE AMERICAN FARMER?

BY CYRUS H. MCCORMICK

Chairman International Harvester Co.

The importance of agriculture in its relation to the problems of reconstruction and as the principal foundation of real prosperity is more fully recognized today by the nation as a whole than since the middle of the last century. This recognition should make possible the solution of some of the farmer's problems which in the past have been understood by few except those actually engaged in farming.

The agricultural problem, however, is deeper than is indicated by current discussions in the press and elsewhere, which treat it purely as a present emergency. In my judgment, the root of the trouble is in the fact that America's farmers have not received adequate compensation for their efforts, as compared with the compensation in other vocations. The accumulated wealth of our agricultural classes largely represents enhanced land values rather than the earnings from their labor or the profits from their investment. The farmer should have a fair return for his services as compared with the earnings of any other class, and if we exclude the item of enhanced land value he has not received this return even in better times.

Perhaps the most serious aspect of the agricultural situation is that the farmer's fixed expenses, which the manufacturer would call overhead or burden, are now much higher than they have ever been before. The single item of farm taxes in many localities is higher today than the rental on the same farm would have been a comparatively short time ago. Again, especially with the younger farmers, land has been acquired during recent years at a high valuation and present crop returns cannot meet the taxes and interest charges. These overhead or fixed expenses are beyond the farmer's control and constitute a problem that is more serious to him than the discrepancy between the values of what he sells and what he buys.

Curtailed Only Recourse

The only recourse of the American farmer in the current period of distress is one that he and many others have employed before, that is, heavy curtailment of living. Farmers' necessities were far below normal in 1921, and they remain at low levels. Meanwhile the prices of practically everything the farmers buy have been constantly working lower until we now find that the single item of increased cost of transportation almost, if not wholly, represents the reduction of the purchasing power of a given unit of farm produce today, as compared with the pre-war period. This increased transportation cost decreases the price of what the farmer has to sell and also increases the cost of what he must buy.

While the farmer has endeavored to meet the present situation by temporarily buying less, he cannot in that way escape the burden of fixed charges, based on enhanced land values, which must be met regardless of the price he obtains for his products.

One solution of the problem that suggests itself is a better system for marketing farm products. The devising of such a system would present more difficulties than those that have been met by co-operative efforts like the various growers associations of California, but they are not insuperable. If foodstuffs can be carried over when there is a surplus, that not only will stabilize agriculture, but will provide insurance against a possible food shortage in the following year.

Food Shortage Not Impossible

Even though crops are now selling below cost of production, it is not visionary to consider the possibility of a food shortage. The world's population constantly increases and the total area of arable land remaining to be brought under cultivation steadily decreases. The margin between production and consumption of food staples is now and always will be so close that even partial failure of a major staple crop would present the serious problem of how to tide the world over until another crop.

With improved farming machinery, a constant increase of cultivated acreage has been for the last half century or more sufficient to insure against food shortage, but as that increase of acreage grows less and less possible this protection is disappearing. Hence the importance, from this viewpoint alone, of providing reserves of foodstuffs.

America has repeatedly been an importer of wheat in the past. The indications today are that while the 1921 crop was sold below a fair price, the surplus going abroad at less than the cost of production, it is possible and even probable that we shall be importing wheat in 1922. Aside from the question of food supply, these facts constitute a powerful argument for a better system of crop marketing.

Under such a system the farmer could avoid the necessity of selling under pressure at too low a price, and the world's granary, grain growing nation would be spared the economic absurdity of importing wheat to meet its domestic requirements.

Why Not Insure Against Shortage?

Nations and municipalities provide sinking funds against future contingencies. Any well managed business builds up reserves in prosperous times against such a period of strain as the present. Why, then, should not we make an effort to provide a reserve as insurance against shortage of the essentials of life, when such provision would in a great measure stabilize the value of the farmers' crops and also would protect the whole people against the distress that inevitably would follow any serious shortage in the world's food production?

Much study and considerable time would be required to put such a plan into operation. Immediate relief for our agricultural classes might be found in better financing—the making available of sufficient funds at reasonable rates, and thus enabling the farmers to "carry on" until the conditions improve. There are ample funds in the country seeking investment and there could be no safer basis of investment than the credits of the American farmer.

Immediate financial relief should not be considered solely as "first aid" treatment. If funds were more readily available in emergencies at more equitable rates of interest, the necessity for forced marketing of crops would disappear and the marketing would be done more systematically with a consequent gain in the average price received.

In some of the older countries grain crops are not rushed to market in any such brief period as with us, but are stacked in sheds or under other cover and are threshed and marketed throughout the year. With better storage facilities and financing the American farmer could, by a similar process, avoid some of the loss incurred by throwing almost the entire grain crop upon the market within a short period and thereby depressing the price.

Let us not deceive ourselves into thinking that our agricultural problem will be solved if the farmer is restored to the relative position he occupied before the war. The farmer cannot hope through future years to obtain in the enhanced value of farm lands the reward for his heavy toil. This may occur in some localities, but in the main that condition has passed and the farmer must now receive a better and more dependable return for his efforts than in the past if he or the rest of us are to enjoy real prosperity in the future.

NEVER WANTS ANYTHING ELSE

"I tried many different kinds of cough medicines," writes Mrs. E. K. Olson, 1917 Ohio Ave., Superior, Wis., "but I never want anything else than Foley's Honey and Tar. I used it for all my children and also for my grandchild. It has always done fine work." Foley's is a pure, wholesome and absolutely safe remedy for the relief of colds, coughs, croup and whooping cough. Children like it and it checks sneezing and snuffling.

A VALENTINE

From Tom Sims

Valentine day started 1500 years before Washington's birthday, but is only a week ahead now.

As its starters are dead, on account of being born too early in history, details are scarce.

The Halloween, I was named after the saints. It was also named a long time after the saints.

Every single fellow in "ye olden times" chose him a girl on this day to last him a year.

No single fellow in "ye modern times" chooses him a girl this year to last more than a day.

The ancient custom was for the people to get drunk; but now only water should get drunk.

In days of old (when nights were cold) Valentine celebrations lasted for three days.

Notice, however, that cutting the three to one has nothing to do with February being two days short.

Early to bed and early to rise and look at your porch tomorrow and there'll be a surprise.

Greetings on the comic valentines are not as funny as some of those on the serious ones.

Reckless spring poets commit their first offenses on your porch and escape into the night.

Enough "Roses are red and violets are blue" are written to feed the south's boll weevils.

Every married man can complete the little verse with "So am I—when the rent falls due."

The true lovers send each other sweet bunches of nothings, but they cost more than that.

Ill-tempered neighbors learn how much of a nuisance they have been during the past year.

No one, however, should watch the door to keep the kids from getting a run for their money.

Great noises from little valentines will grow—but it is all more poetry than truth.

See no evil, hear no footsteps, catch no valentines, and an enjoyable time will be had by all.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The last place that Buskins took the Twins to, in the Land-of-Up-in-the-Air, was called Smoke Land.

"It's an entirely different kind of a place from Mistland," explained the little fairyman, "because, while the mist fairies are getting ready for adventures there will be no more adventures for the smoke fairies. All they can do is to dream about the adventures they have had. But they love to tell stories and they will be glad to see you and entertain you with some of their doings."

Nancy and Nick and Buskins were in the little elevator, going up to the sky, and no sooner had Buskins finished his speech than they stopped at the place he had been talking about.

The smoke fairies were glad to see them and made room 'round the great fire where they were sitting, not a hot fire, but a bright, cheery one, which was magical.

A smoke ring was talking. "I'm out of a pipe," it said proudly, "out of a rich man's pipe. When I was born I was dizzy at first because I'd never been in the world before and I didn't know where I was; so I floated up as far as the mantle piece and hung onto the corner for a minute until I got my bearings. After that I felt better and had time to look around. The room was beautifully furnished with velvet carpets and curtains and pictures, and the man with the pipe had on a silk dressing gown. He was reading a letter and frowning. Evidently he was displeased about something and I felt very sad. I was sorry that anyone should write anything that could make so fine a person unhappy.

"What could it be? I was so curious that I nearly slid off my corner of the mantle shelf."

"THREE MUSKETEERS" MADE IN WORLD'S BIGGEST STAGE

On the biggest motion picture stage ever constructed, Douglas Fairbanks made his celluloid version of Dumas' immortal story, "The Three Musketeers," prepared for the screen by Edward Knoblock and directed by Fred Niblo who also directed Mr. Fairbanks in "The Mark of Zorro."

The first shots taken were of the Queen's boudoir, the set for which is the largest motion picture stage ever built, and which is located in Hollywood, Calif.

All of the feminine players, gorgeously costumed, appeared in these first scenes. They include Mary MacLaren in the part of Queen Anne of Austria; Marguerite De La Motte, as Constance; Barbara La Marr, characterizing Milady, and all of the ladies in waiting.

The Queen's room is as near the exact reproduction of the famed boudoir as it was humanly possible to make it. Every proportion and detail is historically correct even to the paneling of the walls which was all hand painted with exactly the same pictures that ancient book-plates indicate graced the walls of this noted chamber.

Both the Brunton studio and the Fairbanks' studio were used in filming this remarkable tale. Between seventy-five and one hundred sets were used in the entire picture, all of them exact counterparts of the original rooms and buildings they represent.

For action, "The Three Musketeers" excels anything Fairbanks has ever done. There are sixteen duels fought, in one of which Fairbanks as D'Artagnan, and the three musketeers engage eight rivals. This feature will be at the Capitol Theater beginning Monday.

GERMANY TO AGAIN USE TRADEMARK

Agitation Has Been Increasing In Industrial and Commercial Centers

Berlin, Feb. 14.—The trademark "Made in Germany" soon may be stamped again on the German export wares, for the agitation to revive this trademark, which was known in three-fourths of the market cities of the world before the war, has been increasing in industrial and commercial circles.

Arguments that the anti-German sentiment which resulted in widespread boycotts following the war is subsiding and that many merchants again would welcome the trademark have had noticeable influence with manufacturers, who now are investigating the probable result of its renewed use.

It is almost certain the words will shortly be used for articles which cannot be imitated or for which there are no substitutes in other countries.

Some of the reports said to have been received from foreign merchants say many would welcome the sign again if only to prevent tradesmen from selling German goods at higher prices than necessary under the representation that they were made in Switzerland, America, England, or elsewhere.

It is known that immediately after the war the German merchants and manufacturers made use of the Swiss to market German-made wares which were boycotted.

Advocates of the "Made in Germany" trademark also insist its use would protect German merchants themselves, for they hope to "revive the respect for this mark until in no market of the world will the quality of the goods bearing it be questioned."

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerin and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate. Adv.

CASHIER PRAISES BUSINESS SCHOOL

A Fargo (N. D.) citizen, visiting the Peoples Bank of Kansas City, was surprised to get the "glad hand" from P. D. Hodge, its cashier. "I got my start in your city," explained Hodge, "and if I were back on the farm tomorrow, I'd do just as I did 10 years ago—go straight to Dakota Business College. There is no school in the country that surpasses it." Consider: Hodge is only one of 226 Dakota-trained men who became bank officers.
